POL 240: Political Theory

This course is an introduction to political theory through examination of philosophical concepts related to development of modern political ideologies. Emphasis is placed on selected sources of political philosophies. Upon completion, students should be able to identify selected political concepts and associated philosophers, and define, analyze, and explain major tenets of selected ideologies. As needed.

Credits: 3
Transfer Code: Code B
Lab Hours: 0
Lecture Hours: 3
Prerequisites:
Permission of instructor
Program: Political Science