

HIT 250: Clinical & Administrative Health Information

Students will learn the importance of both clinical and administrative information and understand how data can promote better patient outcomes. Clinical decision-making tools are vital to the healthcare industry. In understanding how to combine aggregate data, students will learn how to support stronger methods in providing patient care. Students will be able to discuss how using health records and data through electronic pathways increase efficiency and efficacy and in turn improve patient outcomes.

Credits: 3

Transfer Code: Code C

Lab Hours: 0

Lecture Hours: 3

Prerequisites:

Admission into the HIT program as well as HIT 122 and HIT 225.

Co-Requisites:

As required by the program.

Program: Health Information Technology